No working on the kart is allowed except checking or reducing the tyre pressures. If work with tools is carried out at any time in the grid area (before or after the gate closes) on the kart by any person, then this will be reported to the stewards where a penalty will be imposed. If a driver is unable to start when the green flag/light is given to release the grid for the race, and the mechanic has to intervene (ie spark plug change) he/she will be authorised to do so only on the orders of the Race Director or Grid Marshal, and he/she will take the start from the back of the formation, following the start being given, irrespective of the number of Formation Laps. Any driver starting from the "Pre Grid" will be considered to be on the lead lap, assuming he/she is able to leave the "Pre Grid" before the leader crosses the Start/Finish line for the completion of the first racing lap. Should the driver fail to leave the "Pre Grid" to join the track within this time frame, he/she will only be allowed to attempt a restart within the completion of the second racing lap by the last – positioned Driver, after which no restart attempt will be allowed. Should the driver be able to join the track, he/she will be scored as being a lap down on the leader.
5.16	The Pole position driver of each grid will have the choice of Pole position (on the left or the right side of the track) Providing that he/she advises the Clerk of the Course/RD as soon as he reaches the grid. This choice will only modify the first row, to the exclusion of the others.
5.17	Warning, Technical and Black Flags will be communicated to drivers via a digital display board shown on the gantry over the start finish line.
5.18	TVKC operates a circuit camera system, video footage may be used by the Clerks or the Panel of Stewards to clarify race incidents and may be used as supportive evidence in relation to applying penalties.
6	SCORING
6.1	There will be a minimum of three heats and an A and/or B and/or C final for all competitors or
6.1.1	Timed qualifying practice, pre final and final for each class. In case of any ties with drivers setting identical average lap times in timed qualification, the driver setting the fastest lap will take the higher grid position, if the fastest lap times are identical then the 2nd fastest lap is considered, if second fastest lap times are identical then 3rd fastest lap is considered and so forth. The timed practice results will decide the grid positions for the Pre-Final, each driver's quickest average lap to count. The quickest average lap takes pole position.

	6.1.1 continued.... If there is more than one session and the fastest average time achieved in the slowest session is not more than 101% of the fastest average time achieved in the faster session, then the classification will be determined by the order of the fastest average times achieved by each driver. If there is more than one session and the fastest average time achieved in the slowest session is more than 101% of the fastest average time achieved in the fastest session (fastest average time overall), 2nd place goes to the fastest average in the second fastest session, 3rd to the fastest average in the third session if there is one or to the second fastest average in the fastest session and so on, to determine the combined results order. Where classes exceed 36 entries, the drivers will be split by computer ballot into two separate timed qualifying sessions. Following both qualifying sessions, drivers will be ranked into two groups (group A and group B) with all drivers from group A competing in Pre-Final A and drivers in group B competing in Pre-Final B. the top 16 drivers from each Pre Final will progress directly to the A Final with the remainder qualifying for the B Final, priority for grid positions will be decided on Timed Qualifying position. The top 4 drivers from the B Final will take up the last 4 places on the A Final Grid.
6.1.1.1	Or timed qualifying 2 heats and final(s) Timed qualifying will decide the grid positions for the two heats, in the case of any In case of any ties with drivers setting identical average lap times in timed qualification, the driver setting the fastest lap will take the higher grid position, if the fastest lap times are identical then the 2nd fastest lap is considered, if second fastest lap times are identical then 3rd fastest lap is considered and so forth. Points scored in the 2 heats will determine grid positions for the final(s), with the lowest score on pole. In the event of a tie the higher grid position will be decided from the classification of timed qualifying. To determined grid positions where there is more than one timed qualifying session and the fastest average time achieved in the slowest session is not more than 101% of the fastest average time achieved in the faster session, then the classification will be determined by the order of the fastest average times achieved by each driver. If there is more than one session and the fastest average time achieved in the slowest session is not more than 101% of the fastest average time achieved in the faster session, then the classification will be determined by the order of the fastest average times achieved by each driver. If there is more than one session and the fastest average time achieved in the slowest session is more than 101% of the fastest average time achieved in the fastest session (fastest average time overall), 2nd place goes to the fastest average in the second fastest session, 3rd to the fastest average in the third session if there is one or to the second fastest average in the fastest session and so on, to determine the combined results order.
6.1.1.1.1	For Timed Qualifying the following applies Driver's average time calculated from their fastest 3 laps during their timed qualifying session will be used as their qualifying time for drivers completing less than the required minimum 3 laps their average lap time will still be calculated and then ranked initially by laps completed and then by average time behind drivers completing more than 3 laps. Should a driver have their fastest lap cancelled due to a penalty then the next fastest 3 laps will be used for calculating their average time.
6.2	Any drivers who fail to set a time during TQ will be placed behind all driver who have set a time in numerical order, any drivers who are DSQ from TQ will be placed behind drivers with no time set in numerical order
6.3	The heat points for calculating Final grid positions are as follows: 1 st = 0 pts 2 nd = 2 pts 3 rd = 3 pts 4 th =4 pts etc increasing by 1 point per place.
6.4	A driver who fails to start a heat will receive 1 point more than the number of drivers that started the heat.
6.5	A driver who fails to finish a heat will receive grid points according to the number of laps completed
6.6	A driver who is disqualified from a heat will receive 1 point more than the number of drivers who started the heat.
6.7	If there is more than a full grid of 36 for an A final, then automatic qualification for the A Final will be reduced to make a B final with a minimum of 6 drivers. The same principal will apply to a C final
6.8	The first 4 finishers in the C Final will go through to the B Final, the first 4 finishers in the B Final will go through to the A Final. To resolve a tie in heat points, the following will apply:
6.8.1	The driver with the higher ranking average time in Timed Qualification will take the higher grid space
