SLOW PROCEDURE

As detailed in the National Competition Rules 2026, Chapter 18 Appendix 5 Article 1.33. The Quarter Flag (Battenburg) Flag is NO LONGER in use and is being replaced by the Slow Procedure.

Key Points of the SLOW Procedure:

1. If the track officials need to neutralise a session on track, that doesn't require stopping the session, all marshal posts will display single WAVED yellow flags and 'SLOW' boards/Lights.

2. All drivers must SLOW DOWN remain single file and stay at the speed set by the leader in a tight single file formation. No overtaking is permitted during this procedure unless they dramatically slow down and 'pull to the side' of the track with a serious problem.
3. When the problem that caused the SLOW procedure has been cleared and the session is ready to restart, the following procedure will happen: STATIC yellow flag and 'SLOW' board/light will be placed on the last TWO marshal posts. This is showing the drivers that next time they come to the start/control line they will see the green flag. Drivers must keep a SLOW pace until they cross the YELLOW LINE (acceleration line) on the start/finish straight, this is where you can finally accelerate to pick up the speed. As you approach the Start/Control line, a waved Green Flag will be displayed and the race will be back 'on'. Overtaking is only permitted once you have crossed/passed the start line. You must remain in a single-file line until this point.
